Third Party Liability. Every person on Glendining & Co's premises at any time shall be deemed to be there at his or her risk. He or she shall have no claim against Glendining & Co in respect of any accident which may occur or injury, damage or loss howsoever caused, save insofar as the injury, damage or loss shall be caused by the direct negligence of Glendining & Co employees.

GENERAL CONDITIONS OF SALE

- 1 Definitions In these Conditions Glendining & Co, who act only as auctioneers and agents for the vendor, are called "the Auctioneers", and the representative of Glendining & Co conducting the auction is called "The Auctioneer".
- 2 General Whilst Glendining & Co make every effort to ensure the accuracy of their catalogue and the description of any lot:
 - a) Each lot as set out in the catalogue or as divided or combined with any other lot or lots is sold by the vendor with all faults, imperfections and errors of descriptions.
 - b) Glendining & Co do not accept responsibility for the authenticity, attribution, genuineness, origin, authorship, date, age, period, condition or quality of any lot, unless they have been instructed in writing by the vendor so to certify, and in such case the Auctioneers do so as agents of the vendor and are not themselves responsible for such claims.
 - c) All statements, whether printed in the catalogue or made orally, as to any of the matters set out in b) above are statements of opinion only and are not to be taken as being or implying any warranties or representations of fact by Glendining & Co, unless they have been instructed in writing by the vendor so to certify, and in such case the Auctioneers do so as agents of the vendor and are not themselves responsible for such claims.
 - d) Any claim under any Statute must be received in writing by the Auctioneer within ten days of the day of the sale.
- 3 The Auction
 - a) The Auctioneer has absolute discretion to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots or to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale, to refuse bids, regulate bidding or cancel the sale without in any case giving any reason or without previous notice. He may bid on behalf of the vendor for all goods which are being offered subject to reserve or at the Auctioneer's discretion.
 - b) The highest bidder shall be the buyer except in the case of a dispute. If during the auction the Auctioneer considers that a dispute has arisen, he has absolute discretion to settle it or to re-offer the lot. The Auctioneer may at his sole discretion determine the advance of bidding or refuse a bid.
 - c) Each lot is put up for sale subject to any reserve price placed by the vendor. Where there is no reserve price (but not otherwise) the seller has the right to bid either personally or by any one person (who may be the Auctioneer).
 - d) All conditions, notices, descriptions, statements and other matters in the catalogue and elsewhere concerning any lot are subject to any statements modifying or affecting the same made by the Auctioneer from the rostrum prior to any bid being accepted for the lot.
- 4 Rescission Notwithstanding any other terms of these Conditions, if within fourteen days after the sale Glendining & Co have received from the buyer of any lot notice in writing that in his view the lot is a deliberate forgery and within twenty-one days after such notification the buyer returns the same to Glendining & Co in the same condition as at the time of sale and by producing evidence, the burden of proof to be upon the buyer, satisfies Glendining & Co that considered in the light of the entry in the catalogue the lot is a deliberate forgery, then the sale of the lot will be rescinded and the purchase price of the same refunded. Both the buyer and the vendor agree to be bound by the decision of Glendining & Co

- 5 Default Glendining & Co disclaim responsibility for default by either the buyer or the vendor because they act as agents for the vendor only and therefore do not pay out to the vendor until payment is received from the buyer. Instructions given by telephone are accepted at the sender's risk and must be confirmed in writing forthwith.
- 6 In the event of a sale by private treaty both the vendor and the buyer agree to be bound by the General and any Special Conditions of Sale.

VENDORS CONDITIONS

- 7 Instructions As Glendining & Co are auctioneers, all goods delivered to Glendining & Co's premises will be deemed to be delivered for sale by auction unless otherwise previously stated in writing and will be catalogued and sold at Glendining & Co's discretion and accepted by Glendining & Co subject to all the Sale Conditions. By delivering the goods to Glendining & Co for inclusion in their auction sales each vendor acknowledges that he or she has accepted and agreed to be bound by all these Conditions.
- 8 Collections. Glendining & Co do not themselves usually undertake the collection of goods but will, if required in writing, instruct a contractor on the vendor's behalf in their capacity as agents. Glendining & Co disclaim all responsibility for loss or damage to goods or for unauthorised removal of goods and for damage to premises caused by the contractor who should be insured for such risks. Unless instructions are received to the contrary the charge for these services will be deducted from the proceeds of sale.
- 9 Loss or Damage Glendining & Co disclaim all responsibility for loss or damage to goods or for unauthorised removal of goods unless caused by the direct negligence of their employees.
- 10 Storage Glendining & Co reserve the right to store or arrange for the storage of goods delivered to them for sale either on their own premises or elsewhere at their sole discretion. They exempt themselves from any liability for loss or damage to goods delivered to their sale rooms without sufficient sale instructions (unless the loss or damage is caused by the negligence of their employees) and reserve the right to make a minimum storage charge at 25p per lot per day for such goods.
- 11 Right to Sell Vendors will be charged for goods left on the premises if the vendor has been requested to remove them and if the goods are not removed within twenty-one days of such request Glendining & Co reserve the right to sell the goods to defray costs and storage charges.
- 12 Insurance
 - a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing all goods on Glendining & Co's premises and in their custody will be held insured against the risks of fire, theft following forcible entry and water damage (but not against accidental breakage or damage) for which insurance Glendining & Co will charge a premium of £1 per £100 (minimum £1). The value of the goods so covered shall be the gross amount realised, or in the case of unsold lots the best bid, or in the case of goods withdrawn prior to a sale that which the specialised staff of Glendining & Co shall in their absolute discretion estimate to be the auction value of such goods.

- b) Glendining & Co shall not be responsible for damage to or the loss, theft or destruction of any goods not so insured upon the owner's written instructions.
- c) Glendining & Co shall not be responsible for accidental breakage, loss or damage howsoever caused unless directly caused by negligence of their employees.
- d) In respect of any article delivered to Glendining & Co if the vendor has in force a policy or policies of insurance in which the article is specifically mentioned as being insured, whether or not for an agreed sum or value, the vendor shall notify his insurers of and shall himself note Glendining & Co's interest as bailees in such policy or policies.

13 Reserves

- a) All goods are put up for sale WITHOUT RESERVE at the Auctioneer's discretion unless written instructions as to reserves are received by one hour prior to the commencement of the sale.
- b) In the event of any reserve price not being reached at auction Glendining & Co are empowered to sell after the auction, by private treaty, at not less than the reserve price, as long as the goods remain on Glendining & Co's premises. In the event of such a sale by private treaty the Conditions of Sale applicable to a buyer governing the auction will apply.

14 Indemnity The vendor shall duly indemnify Glendining & Co against any claims in connection with any goods sold by Glendining & Co on the vendor's behalf.

15 Value Added Tax A vendor who sends for sale by auction any chattel(s) which is an asset of his business must disclose to the Auctioneer whether or not he is a registered person for Value Added Tax purposes and, if so, his registered number and whether or not he intends to operate the special scheme covering works of art, etc. This information must be supplied to the Auctioneer on or prior to delivery of the goods.

H. R. MOSSOP

Henry Mossop's outstanding collection of Ancient British coins, sold on the third anniversary of his death, is the largest in private hands. He was born on the tenth of June 1919 in Holbeach, South Lincolnshire. His father was a solicitor, and the family owned a farm on the Lincolnshire coast near Marshchapel. With the outbreak of war he volunteered for the R.A.F. reserves, and eventually served with the 50th squadron. A tail and mid-upper gunner on Lancaster bombers, his plane was shot down on 21st June 1944, and he remained a P.O.W. until the end of the war. Henry always displayed his D.F.C. in the room alongside his numismatic library.

Henry published The Lincoln Mint c. 890–1279 in 1970, a major contribution to the study of English coinage. His Lincoln mint coins are retained for study at the City and County Museum, Lincoln. But his interests ranged well beyond numismatics. In the fifties he became known throughout the conservationist community for his work with the Angler's Cooperative Association. He fought river pollution and was one of Britain's early environmentalists. He planted thousands of trees on the family farm, and was awarded the Lincolnshire and South Humberside Conservation Award in June 1988.

After writing The Lincoln Mint Henry found, in the Celtic series, a challenge to engage him for the rest of his life. He was a correspondent of Derek Allen and Commander Mack, worked closely with archaeologists in Norfolk and at Nottingham University, and was collaborating with Dr. Jeffery May on a sylloge of Celtic coins at the time of his death. He carried on Sir John Evans' work in recording findspots, and kept detailed records rivalling those at Oxford. He was also one of the first metal-detectorists in Britain, importing an instrument from the United States. He always worked closely with archaeologists, and identified many significant sites in South Humberside. He felt the modern use of fertilisers and pesticides, and the action of farm machinery, would eventually destroy any silver or base-metal coins left in the ploughsoil.

Henry was a man of great generosity and visitors to his home could spend hours looking over his collection and using his library. He would always insist on filling the car with petrol from his storage tank, saying "After all, you've driven so far to come to see me".

Looking over this catalogue, collectors will note many outstanding rarities and coins which are amongst the best-preserved for their type. But less obvious is the theme behind the collection. Henry's aim was to create the definitive collection of the Celtic coins circulating in his native Lincolnshire. He purchased duplicates whenever he could so he could recover the entire image and investigate die links. This approach enabled him to become a leading authority on typology, dies and die-cutting. From these studies, he came to know the Celts very well indeed.

R. D. Van Arsdell

Preface to the Collection

Although just over half the lots in this unprecedented sale of Ancient British coins are of the Iceni and Corieltavi, note must also be made of the very fine collection of other tribal and dynastic coins from north of the Thames, particularly of Tasciovanus and Cunobelin, which closes the sale. The contrast between many of the types in this coinage, so much influenced by the Romans, and the undiluted Celticism of the coins of the outlying tribes, is clear visual evidence of Derek Allen's happy phrase – "It is in Britain that all the streams of Western Celtic coinage converge". If I have scattered references to Allen's work liberally throughout the catalogue, it is because he was, in modern times, the most productive worker – and by far the best writer in the English language – in the whole field of Celtic Coins.

I have added some dates, with reluctance, which are taken from Haselgrove's work, Iron Age Coinage in South-East England (BAR 174, 1987). Virtually all the coins in the collection were struck within the space of a hundred years, from Caesar's Gallic war to the Claudian invasion or just beyond. I have tended not to describe the types, ornaments or privy marks in any detail – where standard descriptions already exist. There are, however, many coins which are unpublished or improperly described, and here I have gone into greater detail. The provenances come from Mossop's tickets (note how many he found himself), but these tickets are modest to a degree, never mentioning his own publications – in fact very little except Mack number, weight and provenance, if known. In addition to his well-known note on Prasutagus, in Britannia, Mossop published brief notes in the BNJ in the late sixties, and occasionally in Seaby's Bulletin; his generosity in keeping their Standard Catalogue up-to-date with new varieties should not go unnoted.

The catalogue is arranged, with one or two exceptions, following the order of Bob Van Arsdell's Coinage of Britain. In the uninscribed series reference to Allen's classes (from his Origins) has been retained. The silver "units" are described simply as \mathcal{R} , followed by weight; in fractional silver I have retained the use of "minim" for the little quarters – typically the Wanborough hoard coins, since the word is so apt. References to Mack and Seaby's Standard catalogue are given throughout; and to Allen/Nash as often as possible, for the reasons cited above. I am grateful to Bob Van Arsdell, for taking time off from digging in Hampshire to look over some of the collection one evening with me, and for saving me from a few blunders. Likewise Patrick Finn, for his advice based on long experience of the series, and for his liberality with my use of Spinks' fine library.

Prototype Silver

(Allen types F–I)

Mossop's collection of this material is a fine achievement, and obviously close to his heart. Bob Van Arsdell has renamed the series, seeing the speared boar denarius of the Roman moneyer C. Hosidius C.f. Geta as the inspiration for the obverse type. It is clear from the arrangement of his trays that Mossop considered the first two lots offered below to be the earliest. The whole group is difficult to organise; the sequence adopted here largely follow Mossop's

Miscellaneous Silver Allen’s LX, Danebury and East Midland types.

Most of this fascinating material was gathered in a couple of Mossop’s trays under East Midlands. Glendining's Subscription Service 1991

Subscriptions to our catalogues cover a full twelve month period from the time that payment is received. Our calendar for this year will include some 18 sales, mostly coin sales, of which four will feature coins of the Ancient World. A further three will feature Historical Medals. Subscribers can either receive ALL coin catalogues, or choose to subscribe to these two specialist areas separately. As always a further four sales will feature Orders, Decorations, Medals and Militaria, and catalogues for these sales continue to be a separate category.

For the convenience of customers the subscriptions are priced according to differing postal zones, and all overseas catalogues are sent by airmail.
